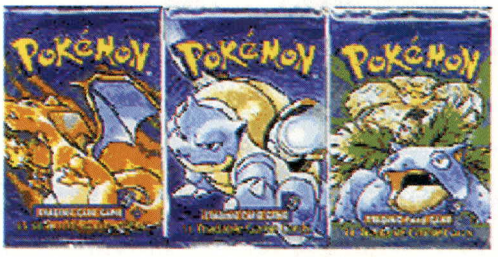
first edition booster packs

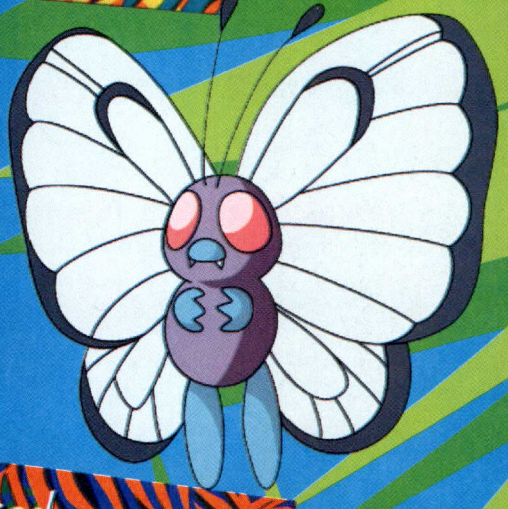
Expert-level booster packs are recommended for players who know what it takes to be a pokémon master! If you know the rules of the Pokémon trading card game and how to build your own deck, then all the Energy types, Trainer cards, and nearly all the Pokémon are at your fingertips in the booster packs. Only really for expert players, each booster pack includes: 11 tradable game cards with a mix of common, uncommon, rare, and holographic Pokémon*, Trainer cards, and Energy cards.

Check out these rare first edition booster packs that are no longer printed.



EXCLUSIVE

This page shows some exceptionally cool Japanese card packs. They are available in the U.K but only in selected specialist toy shops. The are all from a series of cards called the Southern island collection. You can get Fields of flowers, Sea, Beach and Jungle versions.



THE NEW PO

Shown here are some of the new Pokemon from the Gold and Silver gbc game. These Pokemon are under their 'Japanese' names so when released in the USA expected Sept/Oct 2000, many of them will get new western names!..cool!

ONLY AVAILABLE IN JAPAN, THESE SHEETS ARE VERY DIFFICULT TO GET EVEN IN JAPAN, BECAUSE VERY FEW VENDING MACHINES HAVE THESES CARDS. NONE ARE AVAILABLE FROM ANY OTHER JAPANESE POKÉMON BOOSTER BOXES #1-6.

THE DARK SIDE!

Get ready for Team Rocket, the all-new expansion pack to the Pokémon trading card game! For a limited time only, Team Rocket booster packs deliver the "dark" versions of 30 of your favourite Pokémon. There are 83 new cards in all, including 65 Pokémon cards and 18 rare holographic cards, so you can build new decks and push your game strategies to the limit. These First Edition Team Rocket cards will only be available for a limited time.

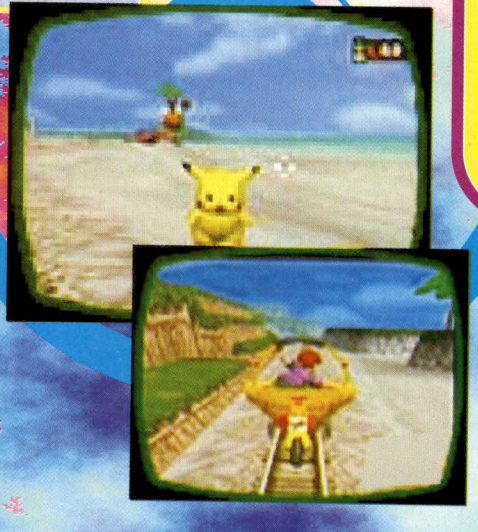
Poké Snapshot!

Pokémon Snap has some of the best graphics and sound the N64 has to offer. The character are detailed and full of personality. The environments are equally lush and detailed. The soundtrack isn't up to much but the game play makes up for that by far. What really cool are the Pokémon's cries, taken directly from the TV series.

Pokémon Snap is a great game it's released summer 2000.



Pokémon Snap N64
Pokémon Snap is quite a funny game - you are the young adventurer trying to capture the elusive Pokémon, on an island somewhere. You travel along on rails and try to get the best shot of one of 63 different Pokémon all in their own habitats. After snapping pictures you get points, it's very addictive.
Price £44.99

Items

- Camera: Used to take shots of each Pokémon
- Pokémon Food: Used to lead Pokémon out of hiding places
- Pester Balls: Used to get Pokémon's attention, sometimes the only way to find Secret Pokémon
- Poké Flute: Used to get Pokémon to perform for the camera

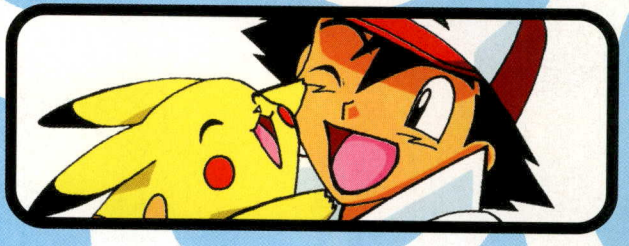
Pikablu

This Pokémon is fast becoming more and more popular as a Pokémon monster he won't be in your 151 poké collection but he is in the new 151 selection of monsters. Pikablu is just a made-up name, his real name is Marril!, although the spelling of his name varies depending on which country you are in e.g America, Japan or the U.K. Pikablu is likeable because of his resemblance to Pikachu.

There are many rumours of how to get Pikablu in the Red/Blue Version, but we have news for you YOU CAN'T GET HIM IN THE RED/BLUE VERSION! Although, you can get him in the Gold/Silver Version, sadly it's not out yet. In this game he will be one of the common Pokémon.



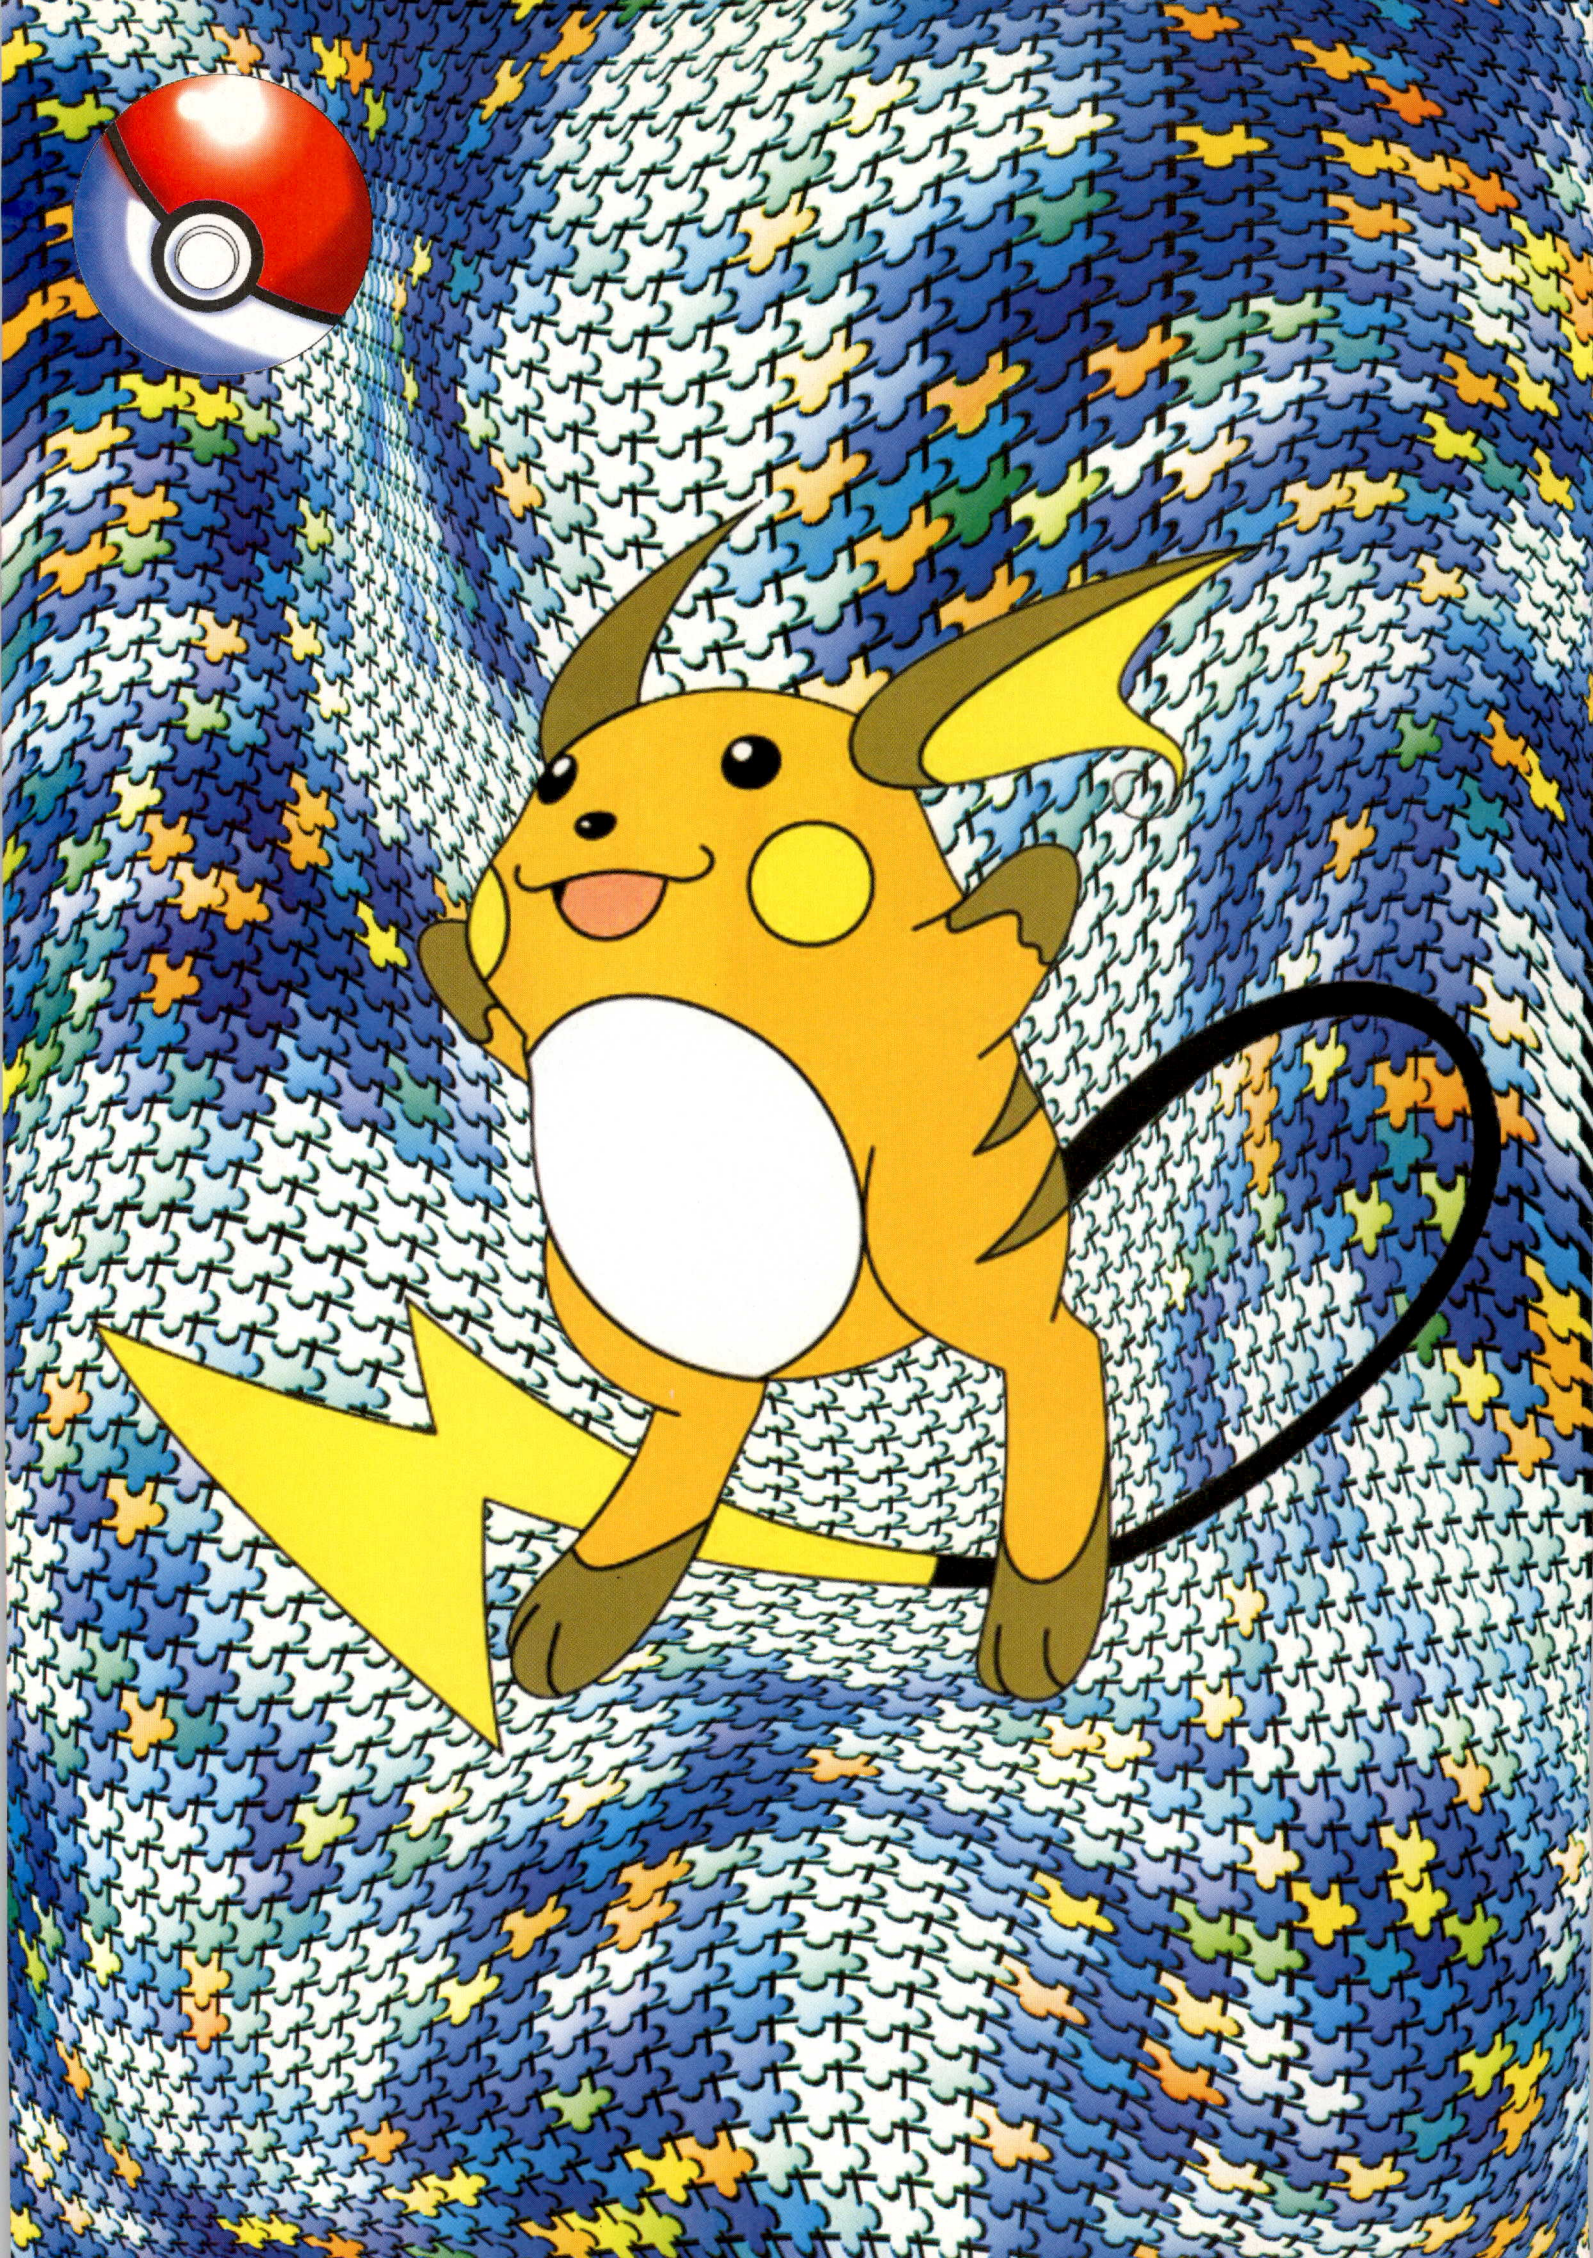
Here are some of the made-up rumours of how to get Pikablu in the Red/Blue version:

If you want Pikablu, first get a Snorlax, then teach him surf. Then go to the Safari Zone, and go to the first body of water you run into in the Safari Zone. Then go to the very left of the water, and surf up and down the part where it's half land and half water. Do it a hundred times without getting out of the water, and doing full laps every time and you'll run into a Pikablu.

FALSE!

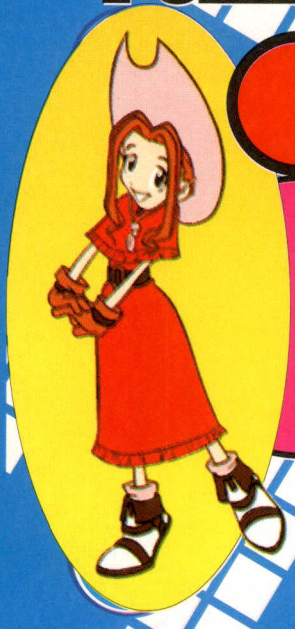
To get Pikablu, put an Eevee, Vaporeon, Flareon, and Jolteon as the only Pokemon in your line up and go to Bill's house, then look at each thing on his computer 100 times, and he'll give you Pikablu.

FALSE!



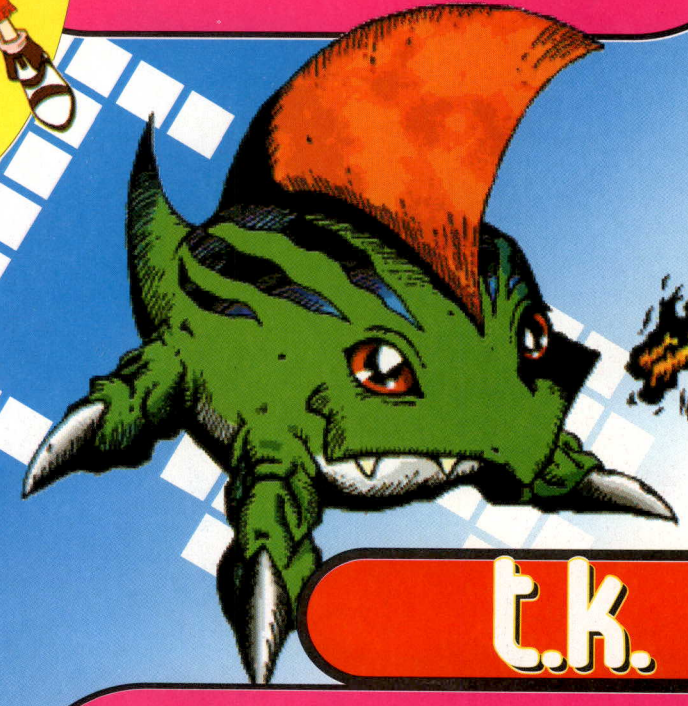
DIGIMON

Pokmon's rival Digimon, is here!



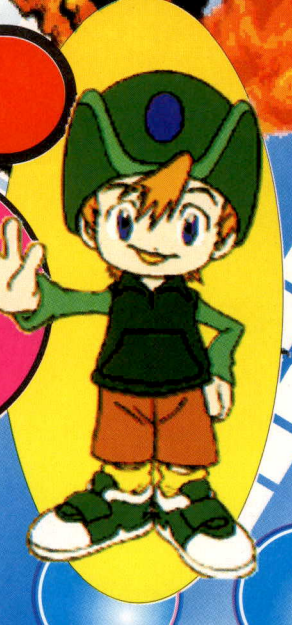
mimi

"Daddy's little princess" is completely out of place in the wilds of the DigiWorld. Eccentric and borderline airhead, Mimi can come across as self-centered, but she is not selfish. She has a sweet, caring personality, but she can become so caught up in herself that she doesn't see what's really going on.



t.k.

Sweet natured, generous, and the youngest member of the group, T.K. tries to be brave because he doesn't want the others to know he's afraid, and he wants to impress his big brother, Matt. An obedient youngster, he strives to always do the right thing.



izzy

The ultimate computer whiz. Precocious and imaginative, he has a theory about everything. With his love of high-end technology and computers, the DigiWorld would seem to be the perfect place for him, but Izzy is too preoccupied with his own thoughts and tends to not see the danger around him.

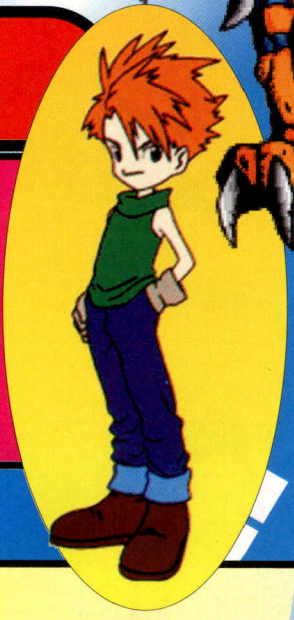
A born rebel, Matt doesn't always appreciate other opinions and prefers to do things his own way. Seen by others as "too cool," he tries to hide the introspective, sensitive side of his personality, but it sometimes comes through when he deals with his little brother, T.K.



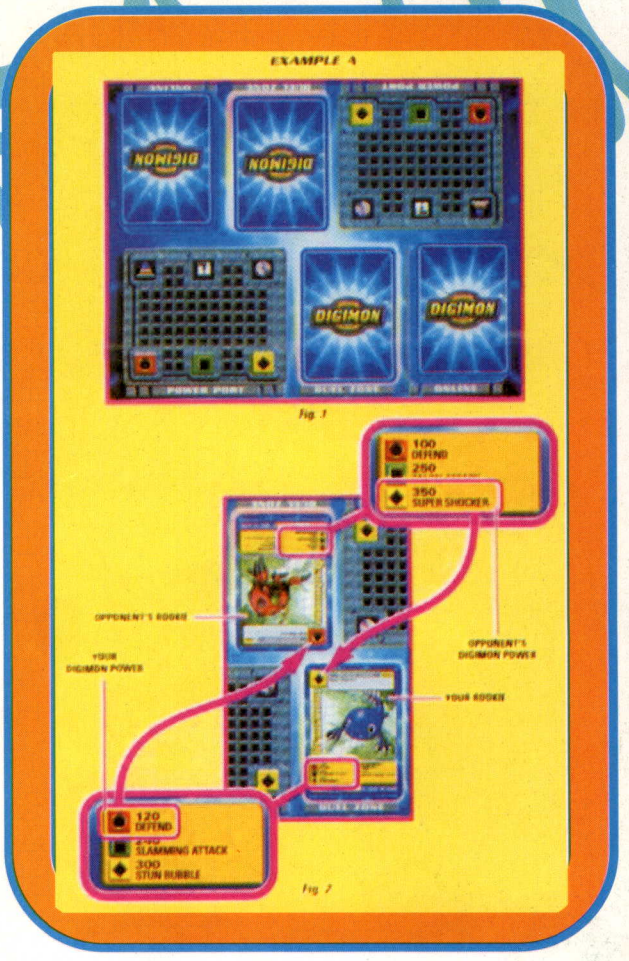
In Japan you can even get Digimon trading cards! They come in packs just like Pokémon cards and they a just as collectable

DIGIMON BATTLE CARDS

In each pack there are 8 Randomly selected game cards. (5 Common, 2 uncommon, 1 rare). Special Holographic and Gold-Stamp cards are randomly inserted.

In each Booster Pack you also get a Checklist Poster. If you collect Pokémon Cards you will love the Booster Packs. They are a lot like the Pokémon cards all of their powers are displayed on the card like the original Wizards of the Coast Pokémon Cards.

DIGIMON IS FOLLOWING IN THE FOOTSTEPS OF POKEMON BY RELEASING THEIR OWN TRADING CARDS.



All the cards look visually impressive and the trading card game looks real fun to play.

The cards are not out yet but look out for them, you can catch the cartoon on C.I.T.V
